The Top 100 Language Service Providers: 2013

by Donald A. DePalma and Vijayalaxmi Hegde

This brief presents the world's leading providers of translation, localization, and interpreting services. Because there were several instances of companies reporting identical revenue, the list includes three ties, resulting in 103 companies claiming or sharing the top 100 spots (see Table 1). The two-letter country codes listed correspond to ISO 3166-1 alpha 2, the most commonly used abbreviations.

Observations on the Top 100 Global LSPs in 2013

How have the top-ranked companies fared since last year? Three trends drove changes in the top 100:

- The biggest got bigger. Six of the largest 10 LSPs posted substantial gains in revenue. Lionbridge's increase advanced it to the #1 spot globally, a place it last occupied in 2005 before the military-focused LSPs claimed the top spot. Other LSPs in the Big Gainer Club are TransPerfect (#3), SDL (#4), euroscript (#6), STAR (#7), and Welocalize (#8). HP ACG and RWS Group experienced much more modest gains.
- Mergers and acquisitions (M&A) changed the market topology. Pactera (#16) takes the place of HiSoft (#19 in 2012) following its merger with VanceInfo. Capita (#35) appears after its parent Capita Group acquired Applied Language Solutions (#47 in 2012). Welocalize's merger with Park IP Translation helped push it past the US$100 million revenue mark. Other companies in the top 100 that grew inorganically were OMNIA (#61), TranslateMedia (#75), and STP Nordic (#86).
- The military-focused LSPs decamped from the list. The language service drawdown is complete. Mission Essential Personnel, #1 in the 2011 and 2012 rankings, chose not to participate in this year's study. Other public sector competitors also opted out, including former list-toppers Global Linguist Solutions (#1 in 2009 and #3 in 2011) and L-3 (#1 in 2007 and 2008, #3 in 2009, and #7 in 2010 and 2011). We attribute their absence to the withdrawal of U.S. forces from Iraq, cutbacks in Pentagon spending, and budget sequestration.
- The largest players aren't the fastest growing ones. Companies on our top 100 list showed an average 10.32% growth this year, down from 18.34% last year. Welocalize is the big exception on our top 10. Smaller LSPs have the highest growth: CTS LanguageLink (#45) experienced an extreme 127%, Ofilingua (#74) 82%, Translate Plus Ltd (#67) 51%, and Sandberg Translation Partners / STP Nordic (#86) 50%.

Some LSPs are having a hard time. The biggest drops on our top provider list were SeproTec (#49) with -32%, EGO Translating Company (#80) with -24% and Neotech (#84) with -16%. From that list, 24 companies made less money than they did last year and 13 grew at less than 5%.
